To Whom it May Concern

Dear Sir / Madam,

RE: CHARACTER REFERENCE OF SUCELLE ERASMUS

I've enjoyed the privilege of knowing Sucelle Erasmus since 2016. Over these four years we have worked together closely and I could observe her character and competence in diverse settings.

Sucelle is a woman with a compassionate heart and sincere belief in people's potential. She is an inspiring exhorter and soothing comforter, one who creates a space where people feel safe and find courage to continue in their journey in life. She listens with a sharp discernment and picks up on the silent cues in conversations. I have observed the transformation in congregation members as testimony of her competence and giftedness as counsellor.

Sucelle is a skilled communicator, a confident teacher. People are drawn in by her oratory skills because she connects well with almost anybody. Her honest simplicity reaches the hearts of her audience and invite responses to her call for action and transformation.

As a group facilitator Sucelle is at her best as she is a connector and a story person. People feel at home in her presence, allowing groups to become friends and life companions. Her gentleness and skilfulness in discernment disarms even the most difficult people, allowing hearts to bond and groups to work together.

Sucelle is a student with a keen and inquisitive mind. Yet through all her learning her humble spirit has kept her teachable. Although she functioned confidently in all the areas of her responsibility Sucelle had always demonstrated a willingness to learn and adapt, with an eagerness to contribute. As such she is a dream member on any team.

As a person Sucelle is friendly, warm and patient. As colleague she is honest, dependable, kind and always willing to help. Her creativity and eagerness bring so much energy and joy to every project and group assignment. She is a delight.
